PRODUCT CATALOG

Dear Friends,

Welcome to our 1987-88 Product Catalog of the finest in Numismatic Speciality Items. We realize that it has been sometime since our last catalog, but we're sure that you'll find it worth the wait!

Among the many new items presented within these pages is the First release in the Elongate Post Card Collection of U.S. Mints (Opposite Page). For those of you unfamiliar with Elongate Coinage, a brief definition is in order:

ē·lom'gāte, a. 1. lengthened, extended. In numismatics, an elongated coin is a coin which has been stretched through two steel rollers, one blank and the other carrying an engraving of a design. The engraved design is impressed onto the coin as it is stretched through the rollers. The first elongated coins were rolled during the 1892-93 Columbian Exposition in Chicago. Since that time elongated coins have been produced for nearly every event and topic imaginable.

This card features "Ye Olde Mint," the first U.S. Mint at Philadelphia. Future Elongate Post Cards will depict important aspects of the Mint as well as all of the U.S. Mints themselves. A Limited Edition of elongated Silver Dimes and an unlimited edition of cents will be produced.

"Philadelphia Mint Nostalgia" is the title of our latest four-color post card release featuring Mint Views of 1903. This special set of 12 different post cards has been reproduced from originals dating from the turn-of-thecentury. This set offers a unique full-color view of operations inside the Mint. A special discount is offered to those ordering before November 30, 1987.

"NOTE CARDS" Please take special notice of this new item as it is sure to enhance those special greetings or messages to collector friends. If you would like a sample of this item before placing your order, please drop us a note.

In closing, if you have been a regular customer of ours, you're special, and we appreciate your business. If you are new to the Numismatic Card Company, we invite you to send us an order and give us a try. We will introduce you to the NEW and EXCITING world of Numismatic Speciality Items. As always, we guarantee your satisfaction and we welcome your comments and suggestions.

Happy Collecting !

Elongate* Post Card Collection of United States Mints

"Ye Olde Mint"

The establishment of our Notion's first Mint came with the Mint Rtt of April 2, 1792. Following this action, President Washington appointed scientist, eminent astronomer and philosopher David Rittenhouse to the position of Mint Director.

Property for our first Mint was purchased by filtenhouse on July 18, 1792 for the sum of $4266.67. Construction began on July 19, 1792 with the destruction of an old distillery which was on the property.

Our first Mint consisted of three buildings. The first building which was erected, the coinage building (middle), was completed on September 7, 1792. The front building, fading Seventh Street, served as the administrative building. The third and last building housed the melting and refining department.

Following 40 years of service, 1792-1832, operations were moved to the newly constructed Mint, the second in Philadelphia.

"Our First Mint" Natalie Hause

The Act of April 2, 1792 provided for the establishment of the first United States Mint. Construction began on July 19, 1792 and on July 31st, David Rittenhouse, Director of the Mint, laid the foundation stone. The building was completed on September 7, 1792.

In 1914, Frank H. Stewart, who at one time owned the Mint building, commissioned Edwin Lamasure to create the first U.S. Mint scene as it would have appeared during the 1820's. In 1985, the Numismatic Card Company commissioned artist Natalie Hause to recreate the scene which Lamasure painted 71 years earlier, entitled "Our First Mint."

Today, the Numismatic Card Company is proud to offer a beautiful full color reproduction of this famous scene on quality Kodak paper. Special care has been taken to assure the excellent detail and vivid color of the painting.

Both prints, ''Our First Mint'' and ''Inspection of the First U.S. Coins,'' make an excellent ensemble for the office or den. Order your set today  ${\sf I}$

"Inspection of the First U.S. Coins" John W. Dunsmore

Coinage operations commenced in October, 1792, with the production of silver half dismes.

In 1914, artist John W. Dunsmore, at the request of Frank H. Stewart, recreated the scene which may have occurred following the issuance of our Nation's first coinage.

This scene depicts Martha Washington sitting before a tray of newly minted silver half dismes held by first Chief Coiner, Henry Voight. Standing around her, looking on are President Washington; Secretary of State, Thomas Jefferson; Treasury Secretary, Alexander Hamilton and Mrs. Hamilton. Newly appointed Director of the Mint, David Rittenhouse, offers a coin from the tray for the first Lady's inspection. Standing at the coining press is Adam Eckfeldt, who later became a Chief Coiner.

The Numismatic Card Company is pleased to offer a quality color reproduction of the famous scene "Inspection of the First U.S. Coins." Special care has been taken to assure excellent detail and color reproduction. All are printed on quality Kodak paper.

Both prints, ''Our First Mint'' and ''Inspection of the First U.S. Coins,' make an excellent ensemble for the office or den. Order your set today!

WELCOME to the FALL '84 issue of Numisgraphics Bulletin.

As the popular song goes... "Christmas can't be far away" the Numismatic Card Company is proud to present our first Christmas "Post" Card featuring a vignette of Santa and his Sleigh that has graced a few Obsolete Bank Notes, which are now very scarce. We have reproduced the actual vignette on linen stock in black ink and above the vignette is "Merry Christmas" in red. These Christmas

"Post" Cards are perfect for sending your holiday greetings. Pricing information as well as our latest postcard releases may be found on the next page.

We have several postcard ideas on the drawing board, and we will keep you informed as they are released. Due to the increase in the number of postcards we will be issuing and from suggestions by you our customers, we are initiating a NumisCard Subscription Service. With this service you will be able to receive all of our new issues as they are available. For further details and subscription form see the inside back cover.

This issue of Numisgraphics Bulletin serves as our Fall '84 product catalog. In future issues of Numisgraphics Bulletin we will not only provide you with our most current products but also with articles pertaining to postcards, numismatics and other related collectible areas.

In closing, we would like to wish all of our customers a most Joyous Holiday Season, we welcome your comments and suggestions, and as always, satisfaction is guaranteed.

Best Wishes.

FIRST UNITED STATES MINT Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

The Act of April 2, 1792 provided for the establishment of the first United States Mint. These buildings were the birthplace of our National Coinage. The first U.S. Mint also had the distinction of being the first public building erected by an Act of Congress, under the personal supervision of President Washington.

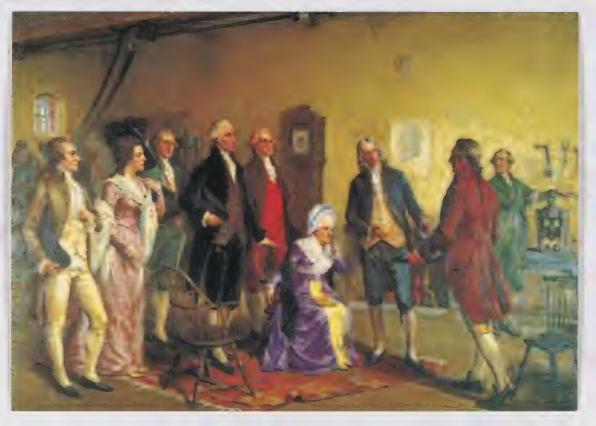

This modern reproduction of the famous picture "Ye Olde Mint", originally painted by Edwin Lamasure in 1914, was recreated by the brush of Artist Natalie Hause, from which this print was made.

The establishment of our Nation's first Mint came with the Mint Act of April 2, 1792. Following this action, President Washington appointed scientist, eminent astronomer and philosopher David Rittenhouse to the position of Mint Director.

Property for our first Mint was purchased by Rittenhouse on July 18, 1792 for the sum of 4266.67. Construction began on July 19, 1792 with the destruction of an old distillery which was on the property.

Our first Mint consisted of three buildings. The first building which was erected, the coinage building (middle), was completed on September 7, 1792. The front building, facing Seventh Street, served as the administrative building. The third and last building housed the melting and refining department.

Following 40 years of service, 1792–1832, operations were moved to the newly constructed Mint, the second in Philadelphia.

The Act of April 2, 1792 provided for the establishment of the first United States Mint. This Federal law also made provisions for a Mint Director, Assayer, Chief Coiner, Engraver and Treasurer. On April 14, 1792, President Washington appointed David Rittenhouse as the first Director of the Mint. Construction began on July 19, 1792 and at 10:00 A.M. on July 31st, David Rittenhouse laid the foundation stone. The foundations and walls were completed and the frame work of the roof was raised August 25th. The building was completed September 7th. Frank H. #### CIVIL WAR TOKENS

The hoarding of gold, silver and even copper coins from the beginning of the Civil War caused a severe shortage of metallic currency in commerce. To help reduce this shortage, die sinkers in Ohio and New York produced copper tokens the size of the standard cent circulating at the time. Civil War Tokens are grouped into two different categories. Store Cards, which merchants used for advertising; and Patriotic Tokens, which carried current slogans.

Due to a shortage of coined currency during the Gold Rush, merchants were accepting Gold in raw form, either Nuggets or Dust, for payment of goods. #### BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG

This decisive battle was fought near Gettysburg, Pennsylvania from July 1st to 3rd, 1863. In this battle over 20,000 men were killed, wounded and missing in action. In November of the same year, President Lincoln went to the battle site to dedicate a National Cemetery. It was here that he delivered his famous Gettysburg Address — "Four score and seven years ago..."

FALL OF RICHMOND

Richmond was the capital of the Confederate States of America. The last major engagement of the Civil Wartook place in Richmond the first few days of April. 1865. Over a period of several days, much of the city was burned which forced many residents to evacuate. After a long, fierce battle, Richmond was finally taken by Grant and the Confederates surrendered. This event marked the last battle of the war.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S FUNERALS

Abraham Lincoln is the only person in history to have 16 funerals. His remains, as well as the exhumed body of his son Willie who died two years earlier, were placed on board a special train and routed through many large cities in the Northeastern portion of the US. At most stops, official funerals were held. These funerals mark the beginning of the custom of sending flowers to the funeral as an expression of sympathy.

CIVIL WAR TOKENS

The hoarding of gold, silverand even copper coins from the beginning of the Civil War caused a severe shortage of metallic currency in commerce. To help reduce this shortage, die sinkers in New York and Ohio produced copper tokens the size of the standard cent circulating at the time. Civil War tokens are grouped into two different categories: Store Cards, which merchants used for adventising; and Patriotic Tokens, which carried current slogans.

Flowing Hair 1794-1795

The first Dollar type struck by the United States Mint was designed by Mint Engraver Robert Scot.

The obverse depicts an attractive head of Miss Liberty with flowing hair, facing right. Encompassing the portrait is the legend LIBERTY above and the date below. Thirteen stars, signifying the 13 original colonies, are also part of the design.

The reverse features a small eagle surrounded by a wreath of two laurel branches tied by a bowless knot. The inscription UNITED STATES OF AMERICA encompasses the wreath.

As a security measure the edge is lettered HUNDRED CENTS ONE DOLLAR OR UNIT.

Draped Bust, Heraldic Eagle 1798 - 1804

The Draped Bust design of this type was carried over from the Small Eagle Dollar of 1795–1798 and paired with a new reverse design.

This reverse motif, adopted from the Great Seal of the United States, features a bold eagle with a large Union shield on his breast. A scroll inscribed & PUNRIBUS UNUM (One unity composed of many parts) is held in his beak. Thirteen arrows appear in his right talon and an olive branch in his left. Thirteen stars are enclosed by a band of clouds. The inscription UNITED STATES OF AMERICA surrounds.

The edge is lettered HUNDRED CENTS ONE DOLLAR OR UNIT.

The "King of American Coins," the 1804 Dollar is of this design.

Peace Type 1921-1935

First coined in the same year as the last Morgan Dollar, the Peace Dollar was designed by Anthony DeFrancisci and was issued to mark the end of hostilities between the United States and Germany.

The obverse features a beautiful stylized version of Liberty, actually a portrait of the designer's wife, Teresa Cafarelli, wearing a radiant crown. LIBERTY appears above and the date below. The motto IN GOD WE TRUST is placed across the coin at Libertu's neck line.

The reverse depicts a stately eagle perched on a ledge with a laurel branch in his talons and the leggend PERCE below. The inscription UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, the motto E PLURIBUS UNUM and the denomination ONE DOLLAR, divided by the eagle, completes the design.

Peace Dollars struck in 1921 are of a higher relief than those of later years.

The edge is reeded.

Liberty Seated 1840–1873

Starting in 1840, dollars were once again issued for general circulation. The seated figure of Liberty, designed by Engraver Christian Gobrecht, was adopted for the obverse. Thirteen stars encompass the central design and the date appears below the base.

The reverse displays an eagle with inverted wings and a Union shield on his breast. An olive branch appears in his right talon and three broad-head arrows in his left. The inscription UNITED STATES OF AMERICA and ONE DOWLAR surrounds the design. I 866 the motto IN GOD WE TRUST inscribed on a scroll was added in the field above the eagle.

This Liberty Seated motif also appears on the Half Dime, Dime, Quarter and Half Dollar denominations of the same period.

The edge is reeded.

Liberty Head, Morgan 1878-1904, 1921

The production of silver dollars for domestic use was reinstated with the Bland-Allison Act of 1878. This Act lead to the eventual mintage of silver dollars into the hundreds of millions. This new type was the handlwork of Engraver George T. Morgan.

The obverse depicts Miss Liberty facing left wearing a Phrygian Cap in her hair with LIBERTY inscribed on a band holding a spray of wheat and cotton. The motto E PUDRIBUS UNUM, thirteen stars and date surrounds.

The reverse features an eagle holding an olive branch in his right talon and three arrows in his left and is surrounded by an open wreath. The motto IN GOD WE TRUST appears in Old English style above the eagle. UNITED STATES OF AMERICA and ONE DOLLAR encompasses the device.

The edge is reeded.

The Gettysburg Address

ourscore and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting-place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate we cannot consecrate — we cannot hallow — this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion: that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Abraham Lincols.

Dear Customers and Friends,

Welcome to our latest product catalog. Inside you will find several new single PostCards and sets, Fine Prints, Book Markers and our first Souvenir Card in a series commemorating the Bicentennial of the United States Mint at Philadelphia.

We have decided to get an early start with this particular souvenir card series to make the public aware of this upcoming U.S. Numismatic Bicentennial Anniversary. For this occasion we have created a special logo which appears here and will appear on the souvenir card series as well as on our postcard sets which relate to the Philadelphia Mint.

Currently being recreated in a Michigan Artist's Studio, is an oil painting of the famous scene, "The First Mint", which Edwin Lamazure painted in 1914. Later this year, the oil painting will be used to produce a Continental Size Post-Card and Print in Full Color, which will then be offered to you our customers.

In addition to the Painting being done of "Our First Mint", we have numerous ideas and projects on the "Drawing Board". It is our goal to release new products on a regular basis every four months or less relating to Numismatics.

As we near our Second year in business, we would like to extend a warm Thank You to you our customers for your continued business and support during the past two years. For those of you who are viewing our products for the first time, we invite you to send us an order, and test the waters. We're here to stay, and we guarantee your satisfaction with our line of fine Numismatic Speciality Items.

Your comments and suggestions are always welcome.

Thank you,

Rocky A. Jennings
